

Dear Megan,

Thank you for writing us at Christian Questions Radio. You said you were a “saved Christian” and liked a band member of a group that was not Christian. You also said you felt it was “a crime to like them” and wondered if liking them was wrong. You wanted to know what to do.

You have to do some honest reflection. Do the members of this band use inappropriate lyrics or dress or act inappropriately on stage? Even though the band is not singing gospel music, are the songs uplifting and good for you spiritually or are they embarrassing or degrading?

Because you stated that you are a saved Christian, we assume that you have made a commitment to follow in the footsteps of our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ, and sacrifice your own will to do the will of God. This sacrifice implies making good use of your time and talent to serve the Lord. If being around this band is not good for you morally or spiritually, or you find yourself wasting too much time with them in idle pursuits, then you have to seriously consider your priorities. You know the answers to these questions. Ask God to give you the strength to make responsible choices. The right choices in these matters will build you up so that you will be better able to make other responsible choices later in life as you grow and mature on your Christian walk.

We hope we have clarified some issues. May the Lord guide and bless you. Please write us again.

Sincerely,
